The Mosaic

Volume 34, Issue 18

A friend and colleague, Rev. Amy Moore, former Senior Pastor at John Calvin Presbyterian Church on Royal Lane and interfaith leader in Dallas, posted this article on her blog recently. It speaks profoundly to what we are feeling as a people of God in the midst of societal change. She gave me permission to print this as the feature article this week. I pray we have ears to hear, eyes to see, and murmuring in our hearts.

Pastor Mike

What Am I Murmuring?

News of the week disheartens me. Currents of injustice, inequality, accusations. Defensiveness and hate. It seems all too pervasive to change, to have a goal and go after it, determined to create something new. Then again, maybe it is all in the approach - or so I learned from watching starlings. I invite you to take 2 minutes (literally) of silence to watch this wonder-full dance <https://vimeo.com/58291553>

Defined, synchronized patterns. Swooping and swirling in beautiful unison. And there is no single leader directing what seems to be an orchestrated dance. I learned that each single starling is in energetic connection with 7 of its neighbors, and each of those 7 with 7 more. Each one sharing its energy with those around it, 7+7+7...until an entire flock (a phenomenon called 'murmuration') is unified in motion. The movement is not created by a choreographed goal. The shape emerges organically as each bird murmurs in connection with those around it. Each one IS the goal that spreads throughout the flock as it moves dynamically with the currents.

Be the change you wish to see in the world, Gandhi murmured. Gandhi lived nonviolence. People followed and a movement grew in the current of the day. Follow me, Jesus murmured. Jesus lived the fullness of Love and walked the way of peace and there were many who followed him. (I need a sidebar here, a "reminder to self". Jesus never said, "worship me." That's too easy. Worship a leader and then go do as I please? But follow me, that's a whole different story!) Jesus' way became a movement, through practicing what he preached and building relationships, and bringing healing. Jesus was the change he wished to create in the world. Love and Life. Rather than go after a goal or worship one, he lived the goal.

As news disheartens me (with its deepening divides), am I going to worship the goal of a choreographed dance of justice, equality, hope and love? Or am I willing to look within myself and live what I wish to see amid the current of the day?

I better think about what my murmuring sounds like! I think I'll watch the starlings again.

Rev. Amy Moore

Congratulations to Jaime Clark-Soles on the upcoming release of two new books.

1 Corinthians: Searching the Depths of God

Available for pre-order: <https://amzn.to/35EfaEz>

1 Corinthians is one of the most gripping books in the Bible. In this letter, Paul, the complicated, layered apostle, writes to the people trying a wild new social experiment known as a Christian community. Not unlike the church today, this community dealt with factions, sexual immorality, gender issues, money issues, theological questions, lawsuits, problems in worship, and problems in leadership.

Women in the Bible (Hardback)

Interpretation: Resources for the Use of Scripture in the Church

Jaime Clark-Soles

Very excited to announce the publication on Dec.1 of my new book Women in the Bible. <https://bit.ly/33wuUXs>

What was it like to be a woman in the biblical period? It depended, in part, on who you were: a queen, a judge, a primary wife, a secondary wife, a widow, a slave, or some other kind of “ordinary woman.” In Women in the Bible, Jaime Clark-Soles investigates how women are presented in Scripture, taking into account cultural views of both ancient societies as well as our own..
